

TUESDAY'S NEWS
NAMED AS THE DAY.

Tariff Bill May Then Be Reported to the Senate.

FURTHER DELAY IS HARDLY PROBABLE.

Great Progress Has Been Made in the Last Few Days.

Seigniorage Bill Was Not Sent to the President Yesterday for the Reason That the Senate Was Not in Session, and the Vice-President's Signature Was Unavailable—Debate on the Sundry Civil Bill in the House Accompanied by Considerable Feeling—Other Capital Chat.

Washington, March 16.—Senators representing both the Democratic and Republican sides of the committee on finance expressed the opinion at the close of the committee meeting that the bill would be reported to the Senate on Tuesday. They stated, however, that no agreement to this end had been entered into, but that the tip was the result of a knowledge of the progress that had been made upon the bill since the full committee has been in possession of it.

The entire time of the meeting, which continued from 10 o'clock till 3 o'clock, was devoted to the question of the methods of collecting the revenue in both the tariff and the internal revenue parts of the bill. The work has been practically completed.

THE SUNDAY CIVIL BILL.

It Creates Some Feeling and Considerable Debate.

Washington, March 16.—In the House, this morning, after the passage of a resolution calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information as to measures taken by him for local supervision and inspection of public buildings, the House went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the sundry civil service bill.

The pending amendment was that of E. C. Tamm, of Tennessee, authorizing the investigation of the coast and geodetic survey to determine the advisability of the transfer of this bureau to the Navy department.

Outwitted, of Ohio, took the floor in defense of the bureau, the importance of its work and the efficiency of the service.

An amendment by Louis, of California, directing the superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey to survey San Francisco Bay and the approaches thereto, was adopted. After some debate on some minor amendments, Hartman, Republican of Missouri, raised a question as to some amendments made by the committee, with reference to an alleged endorsement given by the commissioner of the general land office and the secretary of the interior to the amendment adopted with reference to the timber act of 1891. He denied that it had received such endorsement. Both the commissioner of the land office and the secretary of the interior repudiated it. Mr. Hartman (Republican), of Minnesota, and Wilson (Republican), of Washington, also criticized the amendment and called for a vote upon it. The amendment was rejected by a vote of 157 to 100.

The paragraph approving $750,000 for expenses for the Missouri river commission, Mr. Broderick (Republican), of Kansas, offered an amendment setting aside $750,000 for the investigation of the Missouri river, to improve the river banks at Atchison and Leavenworth.

New York, March 16.—For many months Jim Corbett and Jack McAuliffe have been enemies, but they have made it all up again and are now as good friends as they ever were. Upon finishing his meal, McAuliffe walked over to where the conqueror of Sullivan, Mitchell and others sat.

"I'm glad to see you," the Brooklynite began in mild tones.

"It's all right," said Corbett, "I never opened my mouth about you."

"Oh, it's all right," said Corbett, "I never opened my mouth about you."

"I can't prove you ever did; come over and have a drink," exclaimed McAuliffe.
